Canadian Learning Conference 2027

The Canadian Learning Conference brings together learning professionals to share practical ideas, approaches, technologies, and experiences that improve how adults learn.

Please limit your proposals to 2 of each type of session (concurrent, half-day workshop, full day workshop).

Deadline for submitting: Midnight Friday 18 December, 2026

Presenter Information

- Your full name
- Your organization
- Your title/role
- Your email

Canadian Learning CONFERENCE

Proposal Details

- Session title:
- What challenge/opportunity/question/ does your session address? (Limit 600 characters)
- What will participants be able to do/understand/apply by the end of the session? List 3 practical takeaways or learning outcomes (Limit 600 characters)
- Please provide a 2-3 sentence description of your session. (600 characters max)
- Who is this session for (single select):
    - Novice/New to the topic
    - Experienced to expert
    - For anyone
- Select the primary theme that best fits your session (single select)
    - Career development & professional growth
    - Instructional design/learning experience design
    - Learning technologies
    - Training delivery & facilitation
    - Learning sciences & evidence-informed practice
    - Measurement, evaluation, & impact
    - Future of learning
    - Learning strategy & organizational capability
    - Accessibility & inclusion
- How do you plan to engage participants during the session? This might include discussion, activities, demonstrations, practice, reflection, problem-solving, collaborative work, or other approaches. (Max 600 characters)
- Tell us about your experience facilitating or presenting to groups. (400 character max.)
- Is there anything else you would like us to know about your session? (600 character max.)
- Please provide a brief biography of yourself/your work to be used to introduce you as a presenter. (Limit 600 characters)
- Will you have any co-presenters? List their names, organizations, and titles (maximum two) Note for concurrent submissions: The conference offers a registration discount for the primary presenter only.